

INTENSIVE PROGRAMME 'SBaF' (,Sustainable Banking and Finance')

From Sunday 10 April to Saturday 16 April 2016

Location: University College Gent, Belgium

Work together with students and teachers from:

- CEU San Pablo University Madrid (Spain)
- Centria University of Applied Sciences (Finland)
- University College Gent (Belgium)
- Higher School of Economics (Russia)
- Inholland University of Applied Sciences (NL)

- One week intensive study in international working groups
- Experience an unforgettable moment in a multicultural setting
- Lecturers from many countries create a programme that is unique and very relevant in today's economic situation and for you as a future professional
- External guest lectures from financial institutions
- Excursions to a financial institution and European Parliament
- Social and cultural events

By guest lectures, excursions and by working in international groups you:

- will develop awareness of what sustainable banking and finance is in the perspective of the current financial and economic situation
- will, together with students from other countries, look for possible solutions to enhance sustainable financial companies
- will increase your cross cultural competence
- will learn a lot about Belgium

Organisation: This project week is organized by University College Gent. You will stay in "Hostel Kaba" (www.kabahostel.be). Travel or accommodation costs will be partly covered by your home institution. Your home coordinator can provide you with more information.
